FROM THE DESK OF
DR. GERALD D. DAWKINS
SUPERINTENDENT

On behalf of Caddo parish's teachers and staff, I would like to extend our sincere appreciation for the support, both individually and collectively, of our parents this school year. As we work to shape the future for our 72 schools and 43,000 students, we appreciate the PTA's participation and support of our Vision 20/20 process and community meetings and thank them for their help and assistance during recent testing periods.

We have seen time and again that when parents are involved, things change for the better for our children. As we prepare to close the book on another school year, I wish you a safe and enjoyable summer with friends and family.

All the best,

SCHOOL BOARD NEWS

If you can't truthfully say "we're in it for the children," then maybe we're in it for the wrong reason. Hopefully, you're not in it for the fame, the acclaim, the paycheck. My hope is that we in the field of education, board members, administrators, teachers and support personnel put up with the hassles, the stresses, and the long hours of work to make a contribution, to help children succeed, to do our part in shaping the future.

From the moment students enter a school, the most important factor in their success, should not be the color of their skin, the income of their parents, the neighborhood where they live, nor the neighborhood school they attend. "It's the person standing at the front of the classroom." The presence of a highly qualified, certified teacher with a love for children and a passion for teaching is vital to the success of students. When a school has to use a large number of substitutes, student achievement suffers. The toll teacher absences takes on student learning has long been suspected. According to Raegen Miller of the Center for American Progress, students whose teachers were absent 10 days during the school year tended to have a "significant loss in student achievement." The report also showed that students taught by low-qualified substitutes and by substitutes stepping into classrooms with no advance help from the teacher they're replacing, typically have lower achievement.

School boards and administrators can have tremendous influence on teacher quality in the district. The question is: are we willing to make the effort? Some things that can be done are:

- Partner with local colleges: We need to take advantage of this proven way to improve teacher quality. Student teachers are more successful when they go through intensive residency programs that are closely supervised by university faculty and district mentors.

- Cast a wide net: We need to continue to consider nontraditional candidates for teaching positions, such as career changers or retirees from business, the nonprofit sector, the military to name a few. Our obligation is to make sure that their training prepares them for the rigors of teaching and they, like all teachers are fully supported throughout their careers.

Provide real professional development: To be effective, staff development must be hands-on, rigorous and on-going, and it must involve teachers and their mentors/trainers in the real work of the classroom.

If we are to improve our world for the many generations to come, if we are to encourage others to improve, if we are to help the needy, the incapable, then together (school personnel, PTA's, the community), we must model what we want to see in others. As educators, our work is a MISSION. As a community, a quality education for all is a NECESSITY. Yes, I'm in it for the children. Are you?

Membership Matters

Eppie Adams, 1st V.P. Caddo District PTA/Membership

"OUT-OF-THE BOX" MEMBERSHIP

Several exciting ideas came out of membership workshops at the Louisiana State PTA Convention.

TARGET GROUPS: Have your PTA focus on 1 or more of the following groups to increase membership & volunteers. Tool Kits for most of the groups can be found at www.pta.org.

- Men
- 20 - 30 year-old parents
- Early Childhood Education
- Urban-Rural Development
- Military Families
- Latinos
- Youth Participation
- Special Education PTAs
- Grandparents
- Teachers

FACULTY & STAFF: Let's face it, support from the Administration, Faculty & Staff is crucial to a successful PTA. We need their support, just like they need ours. So, make one of you're membership goals to put the "T" back into PTA/PTSA.

STUDENTS: How are you're students involved in PTA: as members only, volunteers, on committees, etc. Do they have an active say in what your school's PTA does for them? Give them opportunities to lead, share ideas, develop talents, & practice citizenship

Note: Any student (including Elementary School students) can be a member of their local PTA. The unit does not need to be a PTSA. So, if the parent(s) become members, the students should too and vice versa.

CORPORATE MEMBERSHIPS: Develop Membership packages for business partners. Also consider making donations to membership available to businesses and individuals. More information on Membership Packages will be available at the August In-Service.

FACEBOOK: develop a Facebook Page for your PTA. It's a great tool to keep every one connected.

REMINDER!

It is not too late to order Memberscrolls for those all important volunteers. Remember that the bulk of this nominal $10.00 fee goes to help fund scholarships. Contact Kathy Baberousse @ Fairfield Magnet - 868-9826.

COMMUNITY NEWS

A Special Thanks...

Thank you for making Sheriff's Safety Town a resounding success! In just sixteen months, more than 8,000 second graders have experienced this wonderful program and gained invaluable, life-saving skills. More than 5,000 others, ranging from three to ninety-two years of age, have visited and in many instances participated in some of our other unique safety programs, which include the following courses/camps:

- AARP Driving Course
 - Bicycle Rodeos
 - Hunter's Safety
 - Kid's CSI Camp
 - Summer Safety Camp
 - Women's Self Defense
- And numerous mini safety courses

New Programs and Additions...

Beginning this summer, we will open our new Fire & Weather Safety Building, which is designed to simulate fire and severe weather events during which participants will demonstrate how to remain safe during such dangerous situations. This innovative addition will allow us to improve on our existing program.

We've recently acquired a two-seat electric cart that allows us to safely accommodate physically-challenged participants in the motor vehicle safety / seatbelt component of the Safety Town program. More specifically, these children will ride in the passenger seat of an instructor-operated vehicle allowing them to experience this very exciting aspect of the program from the same vantage point as other child participants. We don't want any child to miss out due to issues beyond his/her control.

Future Programs and Additions...

We're in the process of developing an Impairment Awareness Program designed to provide high school age participants, perhaps as an addition to existing Driver Education courses, with greater insight into the dangers associated with impaired driving. The program will incorporate informative videos, impairment games, and the operation of an electric vehicle through obstacle courses, first while unimpaired and then while impaired. Impairment goggles will be used to simulate both alcohol and drug impairment of program participants. This is an audience we have yet to effectively target/reach, so through this unique approach, our goal is to provide vitally important safety awareness to these teens in a fun, interactive format – keeping with the new tradition that is Sheriff's Safety Town.

Another unique device we seek to acquire soon is a special needs tricycle, which is designed specifically for physically-challenged individuals. By making such a device available, participants who might otherwise be unable to safely operate a conventional bicycle will be provided an opportunity to participate in the bicycle safety component of our program.

In Closing...

By staying on the cutting edge of safety education, we continue to develop new and innovative methods of delivering life-saving lessons to both our child and adult participants. Thanks to the support of wonderful people like you, we keep moving forward.

For additional information on Sheriff's Safety Town, please feel free to contact us at 318-698-SAFE (7233). We welcome your questions and comments.

Respectfully submitted by Lt. Richard Corbett and our grateful Safety Town staff.

SUMMER IS COMING ...SWIMMING IS A BIG PART OF A CHILD'S SUMMER.

Home swimming pools are the most common site for a drowning to occur for a child between the ages 1-4 years.

In the summer, between May and August, drowning deaths among children increase 89% over the rest of the year.

No one should swim alone. Designate an adult as the "water watcher" each time children are in a pool or hot tub.

Children should stay away from pool and hot tub drains. Tie up long hair to guard against drain entrapment.

Keep a cordless, water resistant phone in the pool area with emergency numbers.

When riding in a boat everyone needs to wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved personal flotation device.

PARTNERS IN CARING

As the 2009/2010 school year draws to a close, I thought it worthwhile to reflect on the ways our partnership (Community Renewal) has continued to flourish in so many ways with Caddo Parish Schools. We began in the fall with our annual We Care Essay contest where students compete at the elementary, middle, and high school level to show why and how they care for others. The winning students were recognized at the Caddo Parish School Board meeting in December. The winners were also featured in our spring 2010 Renewal News newsletter which is distributed to 20,000+ homes in Northwest Louisiana.

During the fall, in partnership with J. S. Clark MicroSociety Academy and Queensborough Elementary Schools, we launched our first We Care Chapters at the school level. Thanks to the leadership of Principal Patrick Greer (J. S. Clark MicroSociety Academy) and Principal Beverly Cole (Queensborough Elementary) and their respective faculty and staff, the We Care Chapters are off to a great beginning. The We Care Chapter helps raise the visibility of caring and connects students, faculty & staff, parents, volunteers, and others in caring for one another.

And our annual Celebration of Caring (15th year), renamed this year the Maggie Lee Henson Celebration of Caring, was the best Celebration yet. The success of the Celebration is due in no small part to the participation of Caddo Parish Schools. Thanks again to James Willet of Byrd High School & Joe Cagle of Captain Shreve High School (Jazz Bands), and Kimberly Whetstone of Herndon Elementary/Middle Magnet (High Steppers Dance Line) for providing the entertainment.

Community Renewal looks forward to growing our partnership with Caddo Parish Schools in the 2010/2011 school year and in the years to come.

SCHOOL NEWS

A.C. Steere fourth-graders, Hannah Dauzat, Davis Gallagher and Rachel Hewitt launched the Book Nooks club in January. "We want to encourage younger kids and others to read more," Hannah explained, being joined in chorus by Davis and Rachel about two words into the club's mission statement. "Being a good reader helps with everything," Rachel said, "Especially the LEAP."

The fourth-graders — who meet three days each week during recess — said they try to read a new book every week. The group assigns a chapter to each member to read and prepare a reading response on the chapter to present for discussion during their meetings. Additionally, they each read other books on their own. The group participated in reading to younger classes on Dr. Seuss Day.

The trio said they get a great deal of encouragement from parents and teachers and plan to continue with the club next year as fifth-graders. But they aren't looking toward expansion.

JUNE IS NATIONAL INTERNET SAFETY MONTH

As the popularity of the Internet increases daily, so does the number of children who are being solicited by online predators. Although the Internet can be a great resource for children and families, it can also be a minefield of unwelcome and unwanted activity.

Research has shown that prevention efforts do work. By following these suggestions parents can help to ensure that their children practice safe and smart habits when using the Internet.

- Establish clear rules as to what information they should not give out, how long they can spend on the computer, who they can and cannot chat with, etc.

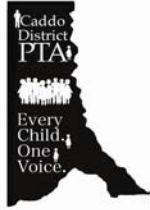

- Keep control of screen names and passwords.
- Keep computers in a room where they can be monitored.
- Have open communication with your children.
- Report suspicious and inappropriate contact.

Prevent Child Abuse Louisiana offers Internet Safety workshops for parents and children. To get involved, call our KIDLINE at 1-800-CHILDREN (244-5373). For more information on Internet Safety, please visit www.pcal.org or call 225.925.9520.
