CREATING WORLD CLASS SCHOOLS FOR WORLD CLASS STUDENTS™

As we prepare to put the finishing touches on another school year here in Caddo Parish Public Schools, we pause this month for National Teacher Appreciation Week to honor and express our gratitude to the thousands of Caddo educators who directly impact the lives of our youngsters every day. A teacher brings his or her special skills to the classroom and those individual contributions are invaluable to our children. Someone once said that teaching is the profession that teaches all other professions. Each of us can think back to that one special teacher who encouraged us to try harder, who inspired us to dream bigger. Our teachers shine the light on the path to success.

Reflecting back on this school year, we have much to be proud of. Just last week, we recognized an outstanding group of student leaders during the district's annual Senior Recognition banquet. I was extremely impressed with the young men and women I met that night. It gives me great hope to know that the future lies in their capable hands.

We also realize that there is much work ahead of us. School board members recently approved a new strategic plan which sets us on the right long-term course of action for our students and staff. During this Vision 2020 process, we have heard from thousands of community members who have shared with us their passions and hopes for our schools. It is my desire to continue that conversation. We have reached an historic juncture in this school system. Difficult and bold decisions have been and will continue to be made with the best interest of our children as the focus. Parents, look for information from us in the coming days to help you better understand what next school year will bring and what you need to know in order to prepare. I encourage you also to utilize our new student information system, make sure your school has your correct contact information and continue to check our website, www.caddo.k12.la.us, for the very latest district news.

Thank you again to our teachers and to our staff and parents for the work you do every day in shaping our children's lives and their futures. The future exists within today's schools.

USE JUST BETWEEN FRIENDS TO COMMUNICATE & MANAGE

Just Between Friends is the official PTA communications and membership management system. The online system was developed to help PTAs efficiently communicate with their entire school community; earn money for their unit; and manage membership. The system also helps parents to manage their hectic lives.

Benefits to PTA Units

- By using the system, units can easily perform all the functions necessary to manage and grow their PTA unit while earning money from Just Between Friends family-friendly sponsors.
- Leaders responsible for communications will streamline their tasks with automatic reminders and the ability to attach documents to their emails.
- Membership Chairs will spend less time: entering members, creating directories, printing membership rosters, and printing membership cards.
- VPs and Chairs responsible for volunteer recruitment and management will simplify their volunteer efforts by providing members the ability to self-report volunteer hours.

Benefits to Parents

- Just Between Friends is an easy way to manage a family's participation in group activities.
- When a parent accepts an invitation to join your group, they have a single private customized online page showing all of their family's events, deadlines and activities related to their groups.

- Parents can manage and remember important personal dates by using their customizable calendar.
- With the system's private email communications and directory/roster creation modules, it's simple for parents to stay in touch with their group.
- The system helps parents manage their own volunteer activities.

Enter your Unit Today

DoDEA CELEBRATES THE MONTH OF THE MILITARY CHILD

National PTA Prominently Featured

The Department of Defense Education Activity (DoDEA) declared April as the Month of the Military Child. DoDEA featured video messages highlighting two students' National PTA Legislative Conference experiences. Also, the works of PTA ReflectionsSM winners from the European PTA were showcased in an anti-bullying PSA produced by DoDEA. DoDEA Celebrates the Month of the Military Child

It is estimated that approximately 1.2 million American children have a parent serving in the military.

Military Child on page 7

MORE NATIONAL PTA NEWS

DUES INCREASE UP FOR VOTE

National PTA has held firm on the cost of dues for more than a decade while still providing resources for parents and schools and benefits for all children. However, in order to ensure National PTA remains relevant to PTAs and parents nationwide, on March 7, 2011, the board of directors unanimously approved a motion to recommend to the delegates of the 2011 National PTA Convention to increase the National PTA dues by 50 cents, from $1.75 to $2.25.

This would be the first dues increase in more than 10 years. In that time, National PTA has produced tangible results for children—just as it did yesterday, does today, and will do again tomorrow.

- In the 1950s, National PTA helped millions of children get vaccinated against deadly diseases such as polio. Today, National PTA protects children from the current threat of bullying with its Connect for Respect initiative.
- National PTA was an early supporter of school lunch programs. The association's efforts to smooth passage of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act last year will ensure that millions of children will have healthier meals at school and will not go hungry.

- For more than 40 years, PTA ReflectionsSM has ensured that more than 500,000 children every year engage in art in the classroom, even as arts education continues to be cut from school budgets.
- As the leading voice for family engagement, National PTA is developing strong research-based programs, implementing best practices, and providing our members and leadership with resources designed to be used on a grassroots level.

National PTA has streamlined its operational expenses and shifted dollars from overhead costs to programs and initiatives serving our children and families—making for a more efficient association.

The dues increase will enable National PTA to continue its high-impact work. Every child benefits from the influence of PTA on policies that affect the education, health, and welfare of children. National PTA remains the only association that advocates for all children—something it has done for 115 years.

MADD ASSERTS THE POWER OF PARENTS TO STOP UNDERAGE DRINKING

As part of PTA's commitment to child safety, National PTA supports Power Talk 21. Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) recently launched Power Talk 21, the national day that encourages parents and caregivers to talk to their children about alcohol. Read more to learn how to request the Power Talk 21 parent handbook and attend a workshop.

According to research, students say that their parents are their top influence in their decision about whether to drink. To help parents talk with their children about this sometimes difficult subject, MADD recently released "The Power of Parents: It's Your Influence," a tool to help parents talk to their children about underage drinking. The research-based resource was created by Dr. Robert Turrisi of Penn State University, and includes proven techniques to improve communication between parents and teens. In addition, MADD offers 30-minute parent workshops where parents and caregivers can receive the parent handbook. To find a workshop near you or to request a parent handbook, visit the MADD website

REMINDER!

It is not too late to order Memberscrolls for those all important volunteers. Remember that the bulk of this nominal $10.00 fee goes to help fund scholarships. Contact Kathy Baberousse @ Fairfield Magnet - 868-9826.

JUNE IS NATIONAL INTERNET SAFETY MONTH

As the popularity of the Internet increases daily, so does the number of children who are being solicited by online predators. Although the Internet can be a great resource for children and families, it can also be a minefield of unwelcome and unwanted activity.

Research has shown that prevention efforts do work. By following these suggestions parents can help to ensure that their children practice safe and smart habits when using the Internet.

- Establish clear rules as to what information they should not give out, how long they can spend on the computer, who they can and cannot chat with, etc.
- Keep control of screen names and passwords.
- Keep computers in a room where they can be monitored.
- Have open communication with your children.
- Report suspicious and inappropriate contact.

Prevent Child Abuse Louisiana offers Internet Safety workshops for parents and children. To get involved, call our KIDLINE at 1-800-CHILDREN

WELL DONE MY GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT

"Well Done My Good and Faithful Servant." These are the words posted on the Caring Bridge page for Wanda Gunn. I could not have said it any better. Yes, very well done indeed. When I opened the paper this morning, I felt great sadness...my heart goes out to husband Reggie and all of Wanda's family.

As all of us who knew Mrs. Gunn can attest, she was a very special woman...a very special person. Through my relationship with Caddo Parish Public Schools, I have had the blessing of getting to know her very well. There are so many wonderful people in the Caddo Parish School System, exemplary people not only for our children, but for our community as a whole. I know of no one who set the bar any higher than Wanda Gunn. Her passion for education, her regard for her fellow workers, her calmness and even temperament when things were not going as well as expected, her deep knowledge of every facet of education, her unfaltering competence, her servant leadership style, and I could go on and on. These are just a few of the character traits that describe Wanda Gunn.

She will be greatly missed by her family, by her Caddo Parish Public Schools family, by her Community Renewal family, by (I am sure) many other families, and by her community as a whole. Wanda is an example for all of us to follow as we strive to make a real difference in the lives of others.

In April, DoDEA ran two video messages featuring Meraleigh Randle and Althea Dunn, two students who attended the National PTA Legislative Conference in March. They were slated to air on the DoDEA website and possibly on American Forces Network stations in Europe. The topic of the first video is youth advocacy and how the National PTA Legislative Conference experiences have influenced both students; the second video showcases the Month of the Military Child. DoDEA understands that military children often face unique challenges such as having a parent who is deployed, moving frequently, living with or helping to care for a parent injured in combat, or dealing with the effects of a fallen service member. Many military children move at least once every three years, and each time they acquire new skills and learn to appreciate the richness and diversity of their environment. Children of military families represent our country as ambassadors who build bonds with our nation and world. They are adventurers and linguists, learning languages through immersion and foreign-language instruction classes and building bridges between cultures with just a simple smile or a friendly wave.

DoDEA also featured the European PTA ReflectionsSM Program winners with a plan to create a public service announcement (PSA) on bullying using two of the entries: music composition at the senior level and video production at the intermediate level. The PSA will enhance the visibility of PTA not only in Europe, but around the world.

A.C. STEERE PTA LAUNCHES LEAP WEEK PICNIC

A.C. Steere PTA's first "LEAP Week Kick-Off Picnic in the Park" on April 9 was an unquestionable success.

Designed to be a simple day of fun and games before the BIG WEEK, Principal Kim Derrick reminded her Gators they had been taught everything they needed to know for the tests, encouraged them to be confident in what they had learned throughout the year and to relax and just give their best effort.

Activities started with a rugby match between Shreveport and Austin, followed by a run-a-thon that raised more than $1,000 for the school. Among the tents, picnic blankets and grills scattered across A.C. Steere Park were a kickball game and photos with A.C. Steere's famous Watch DOGS, a hula-hoop contest, concerts by ACS vocalists and string musicians, and concessions. An outdoor movie capped off a perfect afternoon of fun for A.C. NATIONAL PTA AND MCEC TEAM UP TO HELP MILITARY FAMILIES

First Lady Michelle Obama and Dr. Jill Biden recently announced the launch of "Joining Forces." Joining Forces is a comprehensive national initiative to mobilize all sectors of society to give our service members and their families the opportunities and support they have earned. In response to Joining Forces, National PTA and the Military Child Education Coalition (MCEC) recently announced a partnership to engage military families and support the more than 1 million grade-school children with one or more parents in the armed forces. The partnership will work to build connections between military and civilian parents and students through programs and activities in school districts with a large military presence. The two organizations will also work together to educate state PTA leaders on education issues that affect military children and communicate the role that they can play in supporting these families. For more information about this partnership, visit pwrnewmedia.com/2011/national_pta/mcec/.
